2023 EASTICA Seminar

Call for Papers

June 5th, 2023

To all members of EASTICA,

I'm very pleased to inform you that 2023 EASTICA General Conference and Seminar will be held from November 28th to December 1st, 2023 in Shenzhen, China. We sincerely invite you to take part in this event.

With the arrival of digital era, new technologies are implemented in all kinds of industries, bringing new opportunities as well as challenges to the field of archives, and posing new demands for archival work. To better adapt to the developing trends, we would like to focus on "The Roles of Archives in Digital Age" for this year's seminar.

We therefore invite our dear colleagues in East Asia to share with us ideas and practical experience around the theme. The topics shall include but not restricted to:

1. Archivists: Custodians for Society's Memory
2. New Demands and New Services in Digital Era
3. Archival Advocacy in Digital Era
4. Sustainable Development of Archives in Digital Era

Other thematically related proposals are also welcome for consideration.

Please submit the English outline of your report in the format of Microsoft Word to zhangjin@naa.gov.cn by July 15th, 2023, which should include the topic, abstract (no more than 250 words), your name and institution. We will inform you the result in early August, 2023.

Thank you for your attention and we look forward to your participation.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Lu Guoqiang
Director General of the National Archives Administration of China
